"Fresh! White is a facilitator who understands how to affirm people by starting where they are. Fresh! brought to "Transformation: A Community Writing Salon" a nuanced ability to listen and then empower people to expand their knowledge and comprehension from multiple perspectives. He does this by "meeting people exactly where they are", and encouraging people to reach for a better understanding of themselves and each other, while at the same time sharing his incredible knowledge. I personally learned myself how to grow in my own ability to present to groups more effectively, by applying Fresh! White's method of creating space for people to build trust, integrity and group purpose. I witnessed some deeply powerful change in Writing Salon participants ability to move forward on complicated personal challenges, because Fresh! was able to establish a group dynamic that encouraged people to take risks with personal information, while feeling trust and support from the group. Fresh! is truly an affirming Life Coach who is able to actively encourage positive change. I am honored to co-present with Fresh! because he not only changed the group, but changed me for the better in the process. My way of presenting will be forever improved due to Fresh! White's gifts."
