

Pamela Knight Mattsson, CPCC, PCC

Professional Certified Executive Coach and Leadership Consultant

Professional Certified Executive Coach and Leadership Consultant, Pamela is a model for living a passionate and balanced life.

She is a dynamic facilitator, course designer and innovative leader in organization and corporate culture change. Collaborating with executives at a senior level, her focus is on corporate culture transformation with tangible results and real sustainability. Pamela is well recognized in financial and consulting services industries as a culture transformation expert and conference speaker addressing executives at global events. Pamela has over 15 years experience in international sales and multicultural relationship management both within organizations and as an entrepreneur. She has served both internally and externally as a change agent with clients and partners across all levels of organizations.

As an Executive Coach, Pamela specializes in what she calls Life Leadership and is deeply committed to her clients' success, happiness and wildest dreams. Pamela firmly believes that Life Leadership is about taking responsibility for what you are creating in your life, reconnecting to your inner core, your humanness and authentically honoring your values--the key to innovation, creativity and happiness. She is a co-founder of a global corporate training company committed to bringing the Human BEING into Business. Pamela's coaching style combines her immense entrepreneurial and business experience with her intense compassion and powerful intuition. She works magic with individuals, teams, and businesses as they realign their daily actions with their deepest desires and values in order to unleash powerful potential. Pamela received her Life Coach training from the Coaches Training Institute in San Francisco, California, and is a proud graduate of their intensive Leadership program. Pamela is now a respected member of their faculty and trainer of aspiring coaches. She is a credentialed member of the International Coaches Federation. Pamela graduated Magna Cum Laude with degrees in Psychology and Business Management from Georgia State University in Atlanta, Georgia. Native English Speaker and Fluent in Swedish, Pamela has lived In Switzerland, France, the US, and Sweden. Pamela currently shares her time between Sweden and the US. She is a loving wife, proud mother of four, an avid chef, foodie and world traveler.

Career:

ANZA Leadership (www.anzaleadership.com) 2010-Present
Founder, Senior Executive Coach Culture Change Transformation Program designer and Facilitator specializing in organizational change management and leadership development eKCosystem (www.ekcosystem.com) 2008-Present

Co-Founder, Senior Executive Coach, Course Designer partnered with Corporate Universities to provide leadership development opportunities for high potentials all the way to senior leadership, VPs and principals

The Coaches Training Institute (www.thecoaches.com) 2008-Present
Faculty Member for the largest international coach training company in the world

Passionate Life Coach 2004-Present
(www.passionatelifecoach.com) 2004-Present
Corporate, executive and life leadership coaching services specializing in international leadership development, expatriate sustainability and value-based culture transformation

Meaningful Meals, Inc. 2001-2004
Owned and operated a very successful catering firm specializing in service to global pharmaceutical companies. Designed and led ongoing workshops for businesses on consciously “breaking bread” together and using company meals as team-building opportunities. Coordinated and led a team of 14 full time and 45 part-time employees. Sold company for a 200% profit in 2004 to return to begin my coaching and consulting career.

Delance Swiss Watches (www.delance.ch) 1996-2001
International Marketing Director, designed and coordinated the successful US Market launch and branding for Delance, a luxury Swiss watch and Jewelry line, Senior Relationship Manager, and Advisor on marketing, advertising and international public relations.

AAPA, PC (www.atlantapsych.com)

1990-1996

Executive Vice President and Community Relations Manager for a large psychological and leadership consulting practice.

EDUCATION: Georgia State University, BA Psychology
Georgia State University, BA Business Management
The Coaches Training Institute, Professional Coach
Training and Certification
The Coaches Training Institute, Leadership Development Program

Executive Coaching and Culture Change Clients Include:

