

your business.
our commitment.

CTI is dedicated to your success in every way. That's why I'm very excited to announce the launch of a new CTI program, Breakaway Marketing for Coaching.

Over the past years, I've spoken with many CTI students about what they need to ensure business success as a Co-active Coach®. What they've told me over and over again is that they want a proven, up-to-date, no-nonsense approach offered by marketing professionals and presented in a way that is experiential and fun. So, in partnership with a top-notch marketing company, we've created Breakaway Marketing for Coaching to bring you the most effective techniques for business success in today's changing market.

Breakaway Marketing for Coaching is designed to capitalize on the great coaching training you received from CTI. It's co-led and interactive with lots of hands-on learning, as well being packed full with up-to-date information and tools that you can begin using right away.

The launch of Breakaway marks the beginning of a series of products and programs designed specifically to market your coaching business. Please join us in our commitment to your accelerating success and growth!
